Dear 1998 Boys' State Delegate,

We hope that this letter finds you enjoying your senior year and having success in planning your post-high school life. It's amazing that it's been five months since we saw you last in Manhattan, and even more amazing that in less than six months you'll be graduating from school and looking forward to attending college or pursuing a career. Despite this passing of time, however, we hope that you haven't forgotten your experience at the American Legion Boys' State of Kansas program. Our sincere hope is that you took a strong sense of community back home with you as well as a better sense of how government works for you.

Take a few minutes to browse through the yearbook. This compilation of memories was made possible through the hard work of Scott Johnson, Associate Director, and Thomas Hatfield, Salina delegate. The yearbook was made a reality through their dedication. As you look back at the session, some of the memories that escaped you will begin to become clearer; as they say, a picture is worth a thousand words. We hope that you'll be able to spot some of your friends, look them up in the directory, and give them a call. Sadly, we realize that this letter may be the last contact we have with many of you - - we certainly hope this is not the case with the most of you. If you have any desire to come back as a counselor and you need more information from us, drop us an e-mail at ksbstate@aol.com or visit our website at www.ksbstate.org. Even if you don't return as a counselor, we hope that the friendships you made throughout the week will flourish in the years to come and that your experience with us was a memorable one.

We ask that you take the enclosed application for the 1999 session and find a qualified junior in your high school who you feel would be interested in attending Boys' State. If you have a younger brother, a teammate, or anyone who you feel would appreciate and benefit from the program, give them the application and answer questions they may have. Don't be too technical - - tell them about what our program has meant to you in your own words. Tell them about our website, direct them to your local American Legion representative; in other words, give them what you wished you had known last year as you were preparing for the session. For our program to continue in the direction it is moving, we need your help in recruiting these new staters. We are confident that you are one of the best representatives working for us, and we would appreciate any help that you could give us along those lines.

Again, we wish you luck in your endeavors. Remember to aim high in hope and dream.

Sincerely,
American Legion
Boys' State of Kansas
Staff

The American Legion Boys' State of Kansas 1998 Session

The 1998 session of the American Legion Boys' State of Kansas was held May 31-June 6 on the campus of Kansas State University in Manhattan, Kansas. Over 625 delegates from all over Kansas participated in this American Legion program.

This yearbook is the culmination of the hundreds of man-hours of work that went into the planning and execution of the 1998 session. It is our hope that as you browse through this book it will bring back happy memories of a great experience. You will also find pictures on our web site www.ksbstate.org under the 1998 session section.

If you get the chance, share this book with someone who is eligible to attend a future session.

A Message from the Executive Director

Thane Chastain
Executive Director

On behalf of the staff at Boys' State, let me say thank you for taking a week out of a busy summer to learn about how your city, local and state government is organized. I hope you now appreciate the complexities of government, but equally as important, I hope you made some great friends during the week.

It is far too easy for people to say they have little interest in government. That is like saying you have little interest in the air you breathe. Our form of government was established to protect citizens from rule without representation. Although you may have learned that government is more difficult than you thought, I hope you learned that government can truly be by the people and for the people if the leaders truly represent their constituents.

If you heard it said once, you heard it said many times, "Get involved." It is easy enough to say, but it is far harder to do. No doubt you have experienced frustration at your school, on a team sport, or in your church when people don't pull their own weight. Our government will cease to exist if we do not pull our own weight. Have you thought about how you can get involved with government?

Do me this favor, at least vote in every election you can. If you do that, you will do more than most of the general public. If you feel the calling, make serving the public interest part of your life. Run for office. We will all be better for it. Good luck in all that you do.

A Brief History of Boys' State

"To inculcate a sense of individual obligation to the community, state and nation" is the purpose of the American Legion Boys' State program. It was organized by the Department of Illinois in 1935. The Department of Kansas, holding charter no. 5, was among the first to institute this week-long government-in-action program. Now, virtually every state department of the American Legion has its own Boys' State because of the program's ability to educate youth in practical politics and government operation.

Kansas Boys' State was headquartered in Wichita for 26 years before moving to the campus of the University of Kansas in 1963. It stayed there until 1992, when the program moved to Kansas State University.

The Boys' State program is available to any high school senior-to-be who meets the academic standards and demonstrates leadership potential. Civic and church groups, as well as American Legion posts, sponsor delegates to this fine learning-by-doing, youth-in-government program.

Almost 50,000 young men from across Kansas, including over 700 this year alone, have participated in Boys' State and performed nearly every function of city, county and state government. Former delegates, members of the American Legion and Sons of the American Legion return each year to serve as counselors and advisors for the program. Many of them work year around on ways to improve the curriculum and structure of the program.

During each session, two staters are chosen by their peers to represent Kansas at the American Legion Boys Nation, which convenes near Washington, D.C. In doing so, they participate in a learning-by-doing program that focuses on our national government.

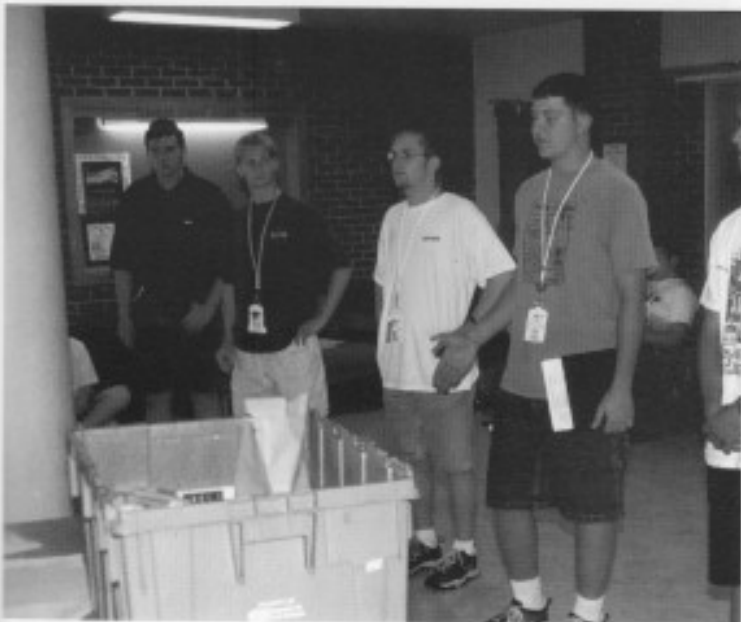

Sunday

After registration, all delegates learned about the roles they would play during the week (farmer, industrial worker, conservative, liberal, association member, and so forth) in this learning-by-doing simulation.

Monday

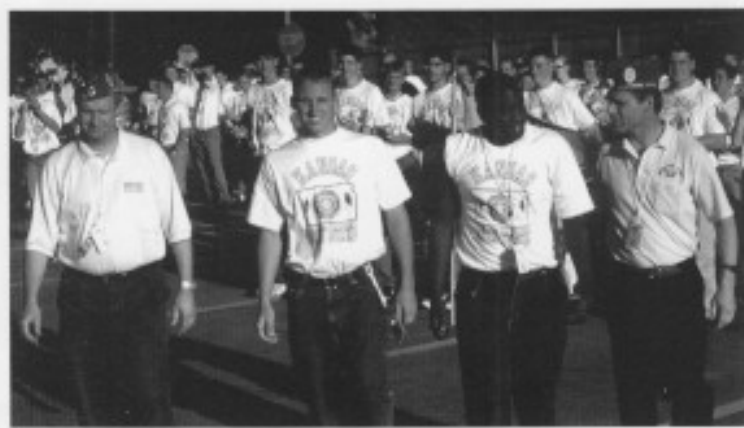

One of the practical lessons learned at Boys' State is the influence money has on both candidates and parties. Monday, as staters ran for office, they also solicited donations to their campaigns. Staters learned this financial influence can be very rewarding, but they also learned how constituents can often begin to wonder what happened to their financial contribution. The Political Fair, Whistle Stop, and the swearing in of all mayors were major events of the day.

Tuesday

The State Candidates' Debate at McCain Auditorium

The State Candidates' Debate at McCain Auditorium allowed all residents of the state to hear from each party's candidate for state office. Following the debate, Boys' State held its general election. The primary elections, held Monday afternoon, narrowed the field to single candidates from the Nationalist and Federalist parties for various offices. The general election allowed people to cross party lines, if they desired, to vote for the other candidate.

Tuesday's general election determined all the county and state leadership positions.

Following the elections, a number of orientation sessions were held around campus to educate those elected on what their responsibilities would be for the rest of the week.

Newly elected Governor Matt Hanson addresses the American Legion Boys' State of Kansas.

Attorney General	Philip Glynn (N)
Treasurer	Ryan Schletzbaum (F)
Commissioner of Insurance	Brad Lewis (F)

Wednesday

By Wednesday the entire state was functioning at the city, county and state level. Government projects generated by our extensive role playing computer program gave staters the chance to learn how their solution to a problem in one city, agency, or county can affect the entire state's economic health.

When we were stater, we thought that being sent to the office meant you had been bad. Now we know we were right.

In what was later deemed a simple misunderstanding, the Stater's Union thought they were their own county.

Banners? We don't need no stinking banners!

Watch closely Adam. See how changing the decimal point makes this city have so little money.

The Color Guard at Retreat

In a ceremony prior to session, immediate past Executive Director Allen Klassen (right in both pictures) was honored by having a Boys' State city named after him. The city of Johnson was retired.
